Date: September 15, 2023

Proposition 65, also known as the Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986, is a California state law that mandates businesses to inform Californians about substantial chemicals known to cause cancer, birth defects, or reproductive harm. This law prohibits any individual or entity engaged in business from knowingly and intentionally exposing others to such chemicals without providing a clear and reasonable warning. Magnet Schultz of America specializes in custom manufacturing of electromagnetic and hydraulic solenoids, including pneumatic and hydraulic valve applications. Some of the materials used to manufacture products for our customers may contain chemicals or require the use of chemicals during the manufacturing process, and some of these chemicals could potentially be listed on Prop 65. To ensure the safety of our primary customers, who purchase our products, we strongly recommend thorough handwashing both before and after handling any of our components. When these components reach the end of their intended life, we strongly advocate for their responsible recycling in accordance with relevant city and state laws. It's essential to emphasize that our products are not intended for consumption and should not be ingested by humans or wildlife.

Magnet Schultz of America relies on the purchaser's knowledge concerning the destination, usage, and operation of the plastic parts we manufacture. Ultimately, it is the purchaser's responsibility to convey any additional Proposition 65 warnings to their end users, customers, or assemblers, as they deem appropriate, based on their selection of specified materials and other pertinent considerations. Please note that Magnet Schultz of America does not affix Proposition 65 warnings to its products.
